

The global pandemic led to:

- Quick pivots
- Remote working
- Fiscal and health concerns
- Ever-changing circumstances
- Pressing community needs
- Burnout and fatigue

Everyone SPRINTED hard from the start...in what's turned out to be a MARATHON.

How do we SUSTAIN?

Invest in people.

Thriving in Change and Challenge: Cultivating Resilience

What is it?

- ◇ An online series designed for those working during and beyond the pandemic.
- ◇ Five (5) 90-minute sessions over 2-3 months.
- ◇ Professional development to support individuals and teams dealing with adaptive challenges that, by definition, do not have known solutions.
- ◇ An opportunity for participants to learn skills and gain tools for increased well-being.
- ◇ A safe way to experience technology as a means to connect, build, and support a team.

Thriving in Change and Challenge: Cultivating Resilience

Participants will:

- ◇ Gain greater insight and skill on how they can effectively contribute to a team.
- ◇ Understand how to create calm conditions to better focus on the tasks at hand.
- ◇ Reflect on their personal well-being and the health of their teams and organizations.
- ◇ Experience an engaging online platform that promotes learning and provides opportunities to meaningfully connect with others.

Sessions cover:

- ◇ How each individual can become more self-aware of their strengths and well-being.
- ◇ Science-based frameworks that promote well-being for the participants and their teams.
- ◇ The four pillars of well-being that individuals and teams need to address in order to cultivate resilience.
- ◇ Understanding how all relationships (including with ourselves) impact our well-being.
